1. Overview

A Greensheet is a management document used by members of the Program Staff and Grants Administration Branch (GAB) to record the process of evaluating a grant application for scientific merit and to ensure that NIH/NCI funding and policy requirements are met. These requirements vary for each Type and Mechanism; each combination has a different Greensheet to address the specific criteria. Every grant application requires that separate Program, Specialist, and RMC Greensheets be completed for the appropriate Type and Mechanism.

Having a set of standard checklists helps NCI Program and GAB staff in carrying out their inherently governmental stewardship responsibilities, in adherence with existing Federal policies and procedures, and ensures that our grantees are treated consistently and are being held to the standards appropriate for the type of award/funding mechanism being reviewed.

The Electronic Greensheets application will allow Program and GAB to phase out the paper process and replace the printed Program and Specialist Greensheets with an on-line form that is accessible via the Internet. RMC Greensheets are outside the scope of this application and are part of the Control application.

This application provides:

- The ability to extract data from various Greensheet answers.
- The ability to implement Greensheet changes in a timely manner as opposed to circulating new paper versions.
- The ability for staff to start working on the Greensheets earlier than before. Staff does not have to wait to get the paper copy of the Greensheet, they can access electronic Greensheets as early as they want and can submit them once that grant number has been selected for funding and is on the GAB Control system.
- The ability to remove certain questions or the requirement to answer them, at the end of the fiscal year.
- The ability to reduce the incidence of conflicting or incomplete information that can occur with the current paper versions.
- The ability to perform edit checks which serve as a quality control for the completeness of the Greensheet.
- The ability to attach electronic documents and comments to the Greensheet.

In order to access this application, it is recommended that either the Mozilla or Internet Explorer web browser be used. Users must also have a valid Novell Network username and password, and be set up with the appropriate roles within the Enterprise database.

2. Accessing the Application

To access the Greensheets applications:

1. Open a supported web browser and enter the following URL:
<https://i2e.nci.nih.gov/greensheets/retrievegrants.do>.

2. Enter Novell Network username and password to log into the Greensheets Application. If you do not have a username and password, please contact the NIH Help Desk to obtain one (helpdesk@nih.gov).

3. Selecting a Grant

The application provides a default list of grants that is populated based on the user name and permissions from which the user may select one to complete a Greensheet. If the desired grant is not present in this default list, the application also allows a user to search for a Grant by either PI Last Name or Grant Number. Users can also access Your Grants to get further details for a selected Grant. Figure 3-1 shows the Grant List page and all of the actions that a user can perform from within the page.

3.1.2. Searching for a Grant

If the user does not see a specific Grant on their Grants list, or wishes to view a previously submitted Grant, he/she can perform a string search on either the last name of the Principal Investigator or the Grant number.

3.1.2.1. Principal Investigator Search

To search for a Grant by the last name of the Principal Investigator:

1. Navigate to the top right of the grant list and select "PI Name" from the drop down.
2. In the text field, type in as much of the last name as is known.
3. The system will match the input string against all last names of PIs and return all Grants that have a PI whose last name starts with the input string. Figure 3-2 below illustrates a sample search on a PI using the string 'Park'.

3.1.3. Sorting the Grant List

To allow a user to quickly locate a grant, all column headers that are underlined are sortable in either descending or ascending order by clicking on the column header. An arrow next to the column header indicates that it is the current sort field; the direction of the arrow indicates the sort order, ascending (↓) or descending (↑). By default, the list is sorted in descending order by the "Program Greensheet Status". The application only supports a single-level sort. To sort the list:

- Navigate to the column header row of the table.
- Click on any column header that is underlined to perform a sort. If there is currently an arrow by the column header, the order of the sort will be reversed; if no arrow exists, the Grants will be sorted in ascending order.

The figure below shows the default sort, which is by Budget Date in ascending order.

3.1.4. Navigating the Grant List

The Grant List page will inform the user of the number of grants that are available for display. This is shown on the left hand side of the table, just above the columns headers. The application is designed to show 50 grants per page. Should the default view or search result display more than 50 grants, a page navigation bar shall appear just below the grant count, as in Figure 3-5 below. The number in bold that follows the grant count is the current page that the user is on.

By clicking on First, the user is automatically taken to the first page of the grants list; conversely clicking on Last will take the user to the last page of the grant list. The 'Prev' link will take the user to the preceding page, while the 'Next' link will take the user to the subsequent page. The application also allows a user to navigate directly to any page by clicking on the page number in the navigation list.
